For the past year Ryan has crossed the country, speaking with organizations and writing about human rights. He focuses on human rights, U.S. foreign policy, and international institutions. In previous work with the Council on Foreign Relations’ International Institutions and Global Governance program he researched global and regional human rights and helped create an internet platform on international cooperation human rights.

The United Nations Association of the United States of America (UNA-USA) is a membership organization dedicated to inform, inspire, and mobilize the American people to support the ideals and vital work of the United Nations. For 70 years UNA-USA has worked to accomplish its mission through its national network of Chapters, youth engagement, advocacy efforts, education programs, and public events. UNA-USA is a program of the United Nations Foundation. UNA-USA and its sister organization the Better World Campaign represent the single largest network of advocates and supporters of the United Nations in the world. Learn more about UNA-USA’s programs and initiatives at www.unausa.org and learn more about the Southern NY State division at: www.unasouthernny.org.

Human Rights Day is observed by the international community every year on December 10. It commemorates the day in 1948 that the United Nations General Assembly adopted the Universal Declaration of Human Rights which Eleanor Roosevelt considered her greatest achievement. It is also a day to recognize the work of human rights defenders worldwide who act to end discrimination.

The Eleanor Roosevelt Leadership Center inspires and empowers individuals and organizations to use their time, talent and resources to build a just and sustainable world, close to home and abroad. To learn more, please visit: www.erleadership.org.
